As we discussed, we will have the meeting, 2pm Seattle time, 1pm ast in Anchorage time. There is a one hour time difference by either standard or day light saving time.

I apologize for the confusion. I can do either time. Just to make sure, we will have the meeting at 2:00 Pacific time and 2:00 Alaska time? Is that right?

Per yours and my discussion, we set it up to 2pm pst. This means 1pm ast. Rich, if that time is not accommodating, we can meet at whatever hour you can accommodate you.

I guess I do need one clarification. The call will be 2:00 AK time? I can set up a conference.
